

Join us for the Cintas NFPA 70E workshop nearest you!

Non-FR 100% cotton after 480v disconnect arc flash.

Do your employees...

- ➔ Work on energized parts, including voltage testing?
- ➔ Remove or install CBs or fused switches?
- ➔ Work on control circuits with energized parts greater than 50 volts?

Then NFPA 70E guidelines apply to you!

NFPA 70E is an industry consensus standard that not only outlines how to properly protect employees, but also helps your company comply with government regulations.

With more than 15 years of experience managing flame resistant clothing programs and participating on standard-setting committees, Cintas is a name you can trust for up-to-date, accurate information. So, stay current by attending a free seminar where industry leaders on 70E compliance share their expertise and answer your questions:

- What is NFPA 70E?
- Why is NFPA 70E compliance important to you?
- What is an electric arc flash/arc blast?
- How can you protect your workers?
- What are Hazard Risk Categories and how do they apply to providing protection?
